

Friends of Gedling Country Park

Welcome to our first wildlife check list. We hope to considerably expand these lists over the next few years and to create a definitive record of all the wildlife within the country park.

The aim of the 'Friends of Gedling Country Park' is to create an environmentally friendly park consisting of native species of flora and fauna as well as providing areas of relaxation and enjoyment for all.

Join the 'Friends of Gedling Country Park' to have your say in the future of the park and to help preserve the beauty of its environment.

Visit our website for further details:
www.gedlingcountrypark.org.uk

Gedling Country Park sits in 250 acres of the former Gedling Colliery site. The park is the last of the former colliery sites in the area to be redeveloped. The colliery closed down in 1991 and has stood abandoned for almost 25 years. With over 9 miles of paths and cycle tracks, ponds and wildlife habitats the park commands spectacular views across Nottinghamshire and into neighbouring Lincolnshire and Leicestershire.

Volunteering at the park.
We need and value people from all walks of life.
Please contact us if interested:
www.gedlingcountrypark.org.uk

Acknowledgments:
Robert Hoare (Nottinghamshire Birdwatchers) & Mark Tyler for details of the bird sightings.
J M Gregory for the design of the leaflet.
Lesley Greaves Estate & Letting Agents for printing of the leaflet.

© BWO/FGCP

Wildlife check list of some of the species identified within the park

